This is not furniture.

These are Tools For Togetherness.

Everything started back in 1994, when Dirk Wynants, son of a cabinet maker, decided to build his own piece of garden furniture for his young little family. He wanted his children to sit at the same eye-height as adults, so he came up with the height-adjustable benches. This was to enable better communication.

'There's so little time to spend together with all family members, so we better spend it well', he stated, and this became Extremis' mantra: let's make furniture that you can actually use, furniture that serves better conversation, furniture that makes life easier. Let's make 'Tools For Togetherness'.

In 2017 the brand Extremis combines over 20 collections of innovative outdoor and indoor products. In fact, our tools are built to be used outside. They are weather-resistant. That doesn't mean they can't be placed in an interior space. For example, many offices use our tools for togetherness for their desks, lunch areas and break-out.

At a time when communication is ruled by mails, mobile phones and social media, we believe that we need to provide solutions to improve real live face-to-face communication wherever we find it, as we are convinced that good quality communication leads to better understanding and a healthy state of mind.

Mohow zeh!

Extremis is the latin translation for a dutch word called "buitengewoon". The literal meaning of "buitengewoon" is "out of the ordinary". We make innovative new stuff, but it is ordinary at the same time: Our tools don't need to shout: 'look at me!' They have to be simple, modest and honest. We enjoy and preach the pleasure-loving Burgundian lifestyle ourselves, but for us the love of pleasure means enjoying quality, not quantity. People sometimes take a different attitude to buying furniture, which we think is a shame, because it's a waste of resources.

Westhoek, 'West Corner', is where Extremis (and most of its employees) was born and raised. This is the most rural part of Belgium, where people use words like 'Mohow zeh' to express wonder while the rest of the Belgians haven't got a clue what they are trying to say.

In 2015 all the transformations on our company premises were completed. The place really needed extensive renovation work, with Extremis applying the same methods and ethics as the ones we use to develop our products, with a focus on ecology and efficiency.

Not the biggest company, not the most beautiful chair,
not the longest table.

We will probably never receive an award for the biggest outdoor company, but we have been awarded over 50 times for our designs and design management. Which all goes to show the originality of Extremis' designs and the innovative spirit we demand of all of our products and team members, year after year.

To name just a few of the awards we have received: Red Dot Design Awards, FX Design Awards, DME Awards, iF Design Awards, German Design Awards, Henri Van De Velde Labels, Good Design Awards, Green Good Design Award, and so on.

“Don’t make anything, unless it is both necessary and useful”

“And if it is, don’t hesitate to make it beautiful”

Shakers quote

Our main concern is to solve problems, not just to produce beautiful objects. And if a problem has already been solved, we need to add value at some point, otherwise, it has no reason to exist. For example, Walrus has an everlasting hide, and it stores warm and cosy blankets inside the backrests. So there are no ugly covers that ruin your terrace view. Bringing comfort outside has never been so easy!

Gargantua

DESIGN BY DIRK WYNANTS

According to an American study, parents and children currently only spend an average of 15 minutes together per day. To improve the quality of this togetherness, Dirk Wynants wanted to create a table where children could comfortably sit at the same height as the adults. This was to enable better communication.

Gargantua

The Gargantua table offers superior functionality thanks to its adjustable benches that can change in height depending on your social or family needs. There is a level for adults, for bigger and smaller children, or the bench can be used as an extension of the tabletop. Provides space for 8 - 12 people. If one bench is removed, people in wheelchairs can also join the table. Gargantua is also ideal for urban spaces and project environments.

Pantagrueel

DESIGN BY DIRK WYNANTS

Pantagrueel is a chip off the old block. He's robust, elegant and sober, just like his father Gargantua, designed 20 years earlier. Together they are the most famous giants in European literature. Francois Rabelais describes them as large, strong, high-spirited, intelligent, progressive and crazy about the good things in life.

When we started Extremis 20 years ago, we named our first piece Gargantua. It was based on a famous 16th-century series of novels by a French monk, Rabelais, describing the life of two giants: Gargantua - whose appetite was unstoppable - and his son Pantagruel. The second generation, Pantagruel, is not a better version of Gargantua, he's just different. There are several material options for the frame, fixed benches and tabletop. It also features a Lazy Susan to easily pass dishes around.

Abachus

DESIGN BY DIRK WYNANTS

Abachus is a high table with a little extra: when standing up, you can lean against one of its six arms, providing the minimal comfort you need to honour Bacchus, the god of wine, with your friends.

Heuveland / Belgium.

Thanks to its solid design and carefully selected materials, Abachus is capable of withstanding all weather conditions. Abachus combines perfectly with the 250 cm Inumbrina parasol. The optional integrated ashtray (available in small or large) stops people from dropping their cigarette butts on the floor.

Hopper clearly bears resemblance to the traditional picnic tables everybody knows, but as is typical of Extremis it offers extra comfort. The four pass-through zones make it easy to get in and out of Hopper without having to lift your leg over the bench or disturb your table companions. Its slanted legs and tabletop edges are a clear reference to the hop poles that are so characteristic of the Westhoek region. If you turn around, you can use the tabletop as a comfortable backrest.

Picnik

DESIGN BY DIRK WYNANTS & XAVIER LUST

Let's celebrate Picnik in 2017!
Exactly 15 years ago, the launch of this design elevated a simple 'tête à tête' to an extremely romantic or even philosophical converse. Picnik became a real design classic, thanks to its iconic shape.

This table for two is in fact much more than just a table seating two people. Picnik was of course primarily designed as a table and bench seat combination for small outdoor spaces. But thanks to its striking looks - both solid and stylized at the same time - Picnik is also frequently used indoors. Combining several Picnik tables in public or semi-public spaces creates an almost artistic effect. One flat aluminium sheet is transformed into a Picnik, thanks to a number of strategic incisions and folds.

An equal number of arched pieces combine to create the central, supporting table leg. Not only Arthur's size, but also its design are perfect examples of the 'form follows function' principle. By making optimum use of High Pressure Laminate, you obtain the typical shape of the legs and the tabletop. That is useful if you want to make sure that one person can carry the table anywhere they want (including up the stairs in a block of flats). Arthur comes in portable 25 kg packs.

Inumbra

Inumbra is unique because of his pure aesthetics. Easy to open and close: the parasol opens and closes with a separate handle. All technical parts that open and close the screen are above the Inumbra's UV resistant fabric, which means they are not visible when seated under the parasol. Inumbra has been submitted to wind-tunnel testing at the Von Karman Institute. Although the parasol can withstand wind speeds of up to 8 on the Beaufort scale, it is off course advisable to close it sooner (from wind speed 6 as a rule of thumb).

Hopper Shade

DESIGN BY DIRK WYNANTS

Hopper Shade

Whether open or closed, Hopper Shade perfectly follows the lines of the Hopper table. It opens and closes without any effort, thanks to a spring mechanism inside. And above all, it does not take up extra space next to the table. The goal was to create enough shade for everyone in a simple and aesthetically pleasing way. Dirk Wynants found the solution in the Hopper canopy. The cloth only has to be closed during strong winds, and then it rolls itself up. The materials used – stainless steel and hi-tech polyester fabric – are highly durable.

& BASILE GRAUX

Romeo & Juliet adds some green to an often colourless urban or industrial setting. The bench is made of long, rectangular strips of wood. Two holes in the seat create room for large flowerpots.

Romeo & Juliet

Romeo & Juliet offers passers-by a comfortable place to sit and relax and also adds a touch of green to an otherwise drab urban or industrial setting. Two round holes in the seat create room for large flowerpots, perfect for a small tree or a plant of your choice. Just like Romeo and Juliet, the trees are destined to be together without ever being able to touch. The bench seems to float between the trees. Obviously, Romeo & Juliet lends itself perfectly to the contract market: when several benches are put in line, the distance between the trees remains identical, creating architectural harmony. They are of course perfectly suited to private gardens or patios as well.
